FIRST MEMORIAL DAY ORDER READ

Logan's Edict Inaugurating Observance Made Part of Exercises May 30.

Following is a copy of general orders No. 11, issued by Commander-in-Chief John A. Logan, of the G.A.R., May 5, 1868, which by action of the 45th national encampment is required to be read as a part of the public exercises on each Memorial day in addition to Lincoln's Gettysburg address: "Headquarters Grand Army of the Republic."

"Washington, D. C., May 5, 1868.

"General orders No. 11.
"1. The 30th day of May, 1868, is designated for the purpose of strewing with flowers, or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion, and whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village and hamlet churchyard in the land. In this observation no form or ceremony is prescribed, but posts and comrades will in their own way arrange such fitting services and testimonials of respect as circumstances may permit.

"We are organized, comrades, as our regulations tell us, for the purpose, among other things, of preserving and strengthening those kind and fraternal feelings which have bound together the soldiers, sailors and marines who united to suppress the late rebellion. What can aid more to assure this result than by cherishing tenderly the memory of our heroic dead, who made their breasts a barricade between our country and its foes? Their soldier lives were the reveille of freedom to a race in chains and their deaths a tattoo of rebellious tyranny in arms. We should guard their graves with sacred vigilance. All that the consecrated wealth and taste of the nation can add to their adornment and security is but a fitting tribute to the memory of her slain defenders. Let no wanton foot tread rudely on
